Mr. Walton, chief clerk in the freight claim department of the Missouri Pacific railroad, St. Louis, arrived here Monday and spent a couple of days settling the claims of the people whose cows were killed by Texas fever—the allegation being that the stock became infected by reason of the company unloading and feeding at this place some diseased cattle from Texas. The railroad authorities have shown a disposition to be very fair about the matter and paid very liberally for the stock that died. The total amount of claims paid will probably be in excess of $2,000.

We understand that Mr. Munger and family will move to Farmington in a few months, where Mr. Munger will engage in the practice of his profession. These are most estimable people and it is with deep regret that we learn that they are to leave our city. Mr. Munger is one of the most able and successful lawyers in Southeast Missouri and enjoys an extensive practice in various parts of the state. In all enterprises which are for the up-building of their town and country or for the betterment of humanity in general, Mr. Munger and wife are earnest and faithful workers, and are the kind of people who will make their presence in any town felt by their good works. The Sun extends its best wishes for their future success and trust that their paths may lead through pleasant places.—Greenville Sun.

Ernest Perry, a negro of Newport, Arkansas, on Tuesday of last week filed suit in the United States Circuit Court, St. Louis, against John I. Marshall, Sheriff of Iron county, for $5,000 damages for alleged false imprisonment. The early part of September of last year Perry was arrested at Annapolis this county, where he was employed loading railroad ties. He filed the description of a negro by the name of Coe wanted at Indianapolis for the murder of a police officer. In fact, it is said that Perry was about a perfect counterpart of the man wanted, even to some scars on his body, and the Sheriff was certain he had the right man. Perry protested his innocence and C. W. Beard, of Newport, a former resident of Ironton, came here and identified him as being from Newport and not the man wanted in Indianapolis. Perry was, of course, then released but he wants $5,000 for the three days he was in jail. Deputy United States Marshal Whitworth of St. Louis was here last Wednesday serving summons on Sheriff Marshall and his bondsman, who are W. R. Edgar, P. W. Whitworth and Wm. H. Whitworth. The case will come up for trial next March.

The Rev. J. C. Ingham, rector of the Episcopal church in Poplar Bluff and one of the best known and liked clergymen in Southeast Missouri, and Miss Lizzie Russell of Bird's Point will be married September 14th at St. Louis. Invitations were received to-day by the friends in Poplar Bluff of both the minister and bride-to-be. The announcement of Mr. Ingham's impending marriage acted somewhat in the nature of a bomb among his scores of friends here. Not for a minute had he been suspected of courting Cupid's dart and when he related how he received a mortal wound he created something akin to consternation among members of his congregation and those of his intimates who thought they should have been informed when the affair had its inception. Mr. Ingham and Miss Russell met two years ago at a home-coming in Jackson. She is a niece of Mrs. Mattie Sanford of that town and a cousin of Mrs. Mattie Peterman, now of Poplar Bluff. She belongs to one of the best known and most prominent families in this part of Missouri. She is the daughter of a widow, Mrs. James Russell, and is a charming young woman. The wedding will take place at Christ Church Cathedral in St. Louis, Bishop Tuttle officiating. The ceremony will take place at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon and will be followed by a supper for only the immediate families of the couple. A honeymoon trip to the north probably will be started immediately after. Mr. Ingham has been rector of the Episcopal church here for about four and a half years and numbers friends by scores. He has won the hearts of many by his unswerving friendship, his warm allegiance and his devotion to the interests of his church and congregation.—Poplar Bluff Citizen.

Farmington Fair.

The Fair of Farmington will be held this year September 21-24. It will be a great fair from every standpoint. The Association has spent several thousand dollars improving the grounds and now everything is in fine shape.

There will be daily band concerts, daily performances by these great high school horses, Kind Golden and Kind Sukon, various shows on the pike and the stock shows will be of the highest class. It is now thought that the races will be the best ever seen in Southeast Missouri. There are five fairs in the racing circuit of this district and the liberal purses have attracted horsemen from all over the country. The racing stock that has been entered is of a class to insure good races and there are very few people who do not enjoy seeing good horse races.

The railroad and the electric car line will make special rates to accommodate the public during the four days of the fair. Everyone is invited to show horses, mules, jacks, jennets, cattle, poultry, sheep, hogs and display articles in the Floral Hall. There is no charge of any kind for entry fees.

Let's all get ready and spend a day or two at least at the Farmington Fair and have a good time seeing the sights and meeting old friends and making new ones.

B. N. Brown has just received 17,000 more post card views of the valley. Price, 1 cent each; set 17 different cards, 15 cents; 5 sets for 60 cents.

CENTERVILLE, Mo., Sept. 10, 1910.

Ed. Register—For some time I had noticed a large blue mark across the face of the IRON COUNTY REGISTER which appeared to have been made by some clumsy amateur taking his first lessons in painting. I only gave the blurring of the paper a passing notice and thought I would soon be over to the city located at the foot of the big hill and arrange for this young man to have other material on which to use his pencil; and the time passed swiftly and lo, and behold, the REGISTER came not but made default, and the blur and the paper disappeared as in a mist and I wondered the cause thereof. I went straightway unto the likes priest who keeps the keys, looks the stamps and distributes campaign funds for the standpaters, and there I had information and there was caused to be informed that there had been a decree in the conclave of the Great Council prohibiting and perpetually enjoining Uncle Sam from carrying and delivering unto lawyers, doctors, preachers, as well as a few farmers and other laymen, periodicals and newspapers unless they had first paid into the tills of the printer money and other valuable exchanges for the same. When I heard this, my eyes were opened and when I looked afar off I could see, and I came to my understanding. I know then, Mr. Editor, that those arbitrators had taken advantage of the fraternity and its friends who had been taking advantage of the generosity of the printers and getting their paper free, and that the law was not of your making; for the printer, and especially the editor of the REGISTER, is not editing a paper solely for money or in the interest of the monied classes, but for the more noble and glorious purpose of elevating those with whom the paper comes in contact to a higher plane.

The printer derives enough pleasure from the praise he receives from his constituents or patrons to more than pay him for the expense and time of collecting and furnishing the news; and when he has run his race and finished his course, he has the assurance that henceforth there is a crown laid up for him and an untarnished reputation which will descend to his heirs.

I am herewith enclosing my personal check on the Reynolds County Bank for the sum of $3, which I hope will be sufficient to reinstate me on the list and will remove me from under the displeasure and penalty of the law, as my family and I take pleasure in reading the REGISTER and miss it when it does not appear each week. If you do not need this small amount Bro. Ake, (printers have no use for money) you have my permission to donate the same to any charitable institution you may select.

Congratulations you and your staff on the splendid paper you are giving the public. I beg to remain,

Yours, truly,

R. I. JANUARY.

Des Arc Items.

The Holiness Camp Meeting closed Sunday night. There were over one thousand people on the grounds Sunday. They had several conversions and the collection was good. Something near $300 was paid in for different expenses. Rev. McBride did some good preaching; he is an able man and a good worker for the Holiness cause. The singing was simply fine. The Misses McCormick, of Patterson, came in Thursday and joined the choir. They are the finest singers in the county. They sang a solo, "The Ladder," which was the finest thing I ever heard. It is a treat to hear them perform on piano and guitar.

W. T. Gay, of Ironton, was here attending the meeting.

Jesse Hawkins and Mr. Newman, of Ironton, were here Sunday. Also Monroe Whitworth was here in the interest of temperance. He is doing a grand work and should have the help of every moral man in this county.

The following were among the visitors here Sunday: Mrs. Nell Collins, May, Ina and Virgie Collins, Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Shy, of Sabula. E. White and Luke White and families, of Fredericktown, and a big crowd from Piedmont, Greenville. Miss McHenry, of Sabula, was among them.

D. F. Stevenson and wife, of Taskee, were here Sunday.

A good many apples are coming in. Mr. McCallister shipped 12 bushels from here to Moberly, Mo. I saw 50 bushels being shipped to Bismarck and Flat River from Piedmont.

Five cars of stock were shipped from here last week.

A company is being organized here composed of our best men. They will put in a planer, screen and handle factory. The railroad company will put in a switch in the north end of Des Arc. They have several yellow pine mills below and will ship the raw material in here. As these men do not know what failure is I predict for them a lively business.
